Dispute Resolution

Sherry specializes in international commercial dispute resolution, maritime law and corporate legal matters, and has relevant practical experience. In terms of dispute resolution, Sherry has been involved in handling numerous maritime and commercial cases, both in litigation and arbitration, including disputes over the international sales of cargo, cargo claims, collisions, and general average cases. Beyond contentious matters, Sherry has been deeply involved in the legal support for large-scale ship financial leasing projects and has provided annual legal consulting services for many clients.
